20264 HEDGE TRIMMING BUSINESS - REDUCED FOR QUICK SALE

Servicing the Inner East, South East and North West suburbs of Melbourne, this successful business offers hedge trimming services to high-end customers who are prepared to pay higher rates for the niche service offered.

Currently operating 1.5 days per week in these suburbs, the owner is selling off his Melbourne business to reduce his overall time on the job and focus on his rural business. This opportunity presents enormous potential for growth and the ability to choose your own hours. An increase to 3 days a week has the possibility of earning a 6-figure income.

The business has sustained normal operation throughout the drought and COVID19 lockdown, and also has the capacity to support an apprentice or assistant, which equates to greater flexibility and longevity. With endless referral calls received daily since the end of lockdown, the increasing demand within the industry offers enormous potential for growth.

With the ongoing development and continued growth projected for these Melbourne suburbs, there will never be a shortage of new hedges to trim. Known for its high-quality service, this business had developed a strong reputation within the community. With a customer base including loyal and long-term clients, work is secured for months in advance, with the current owner having to turn away new clients.

Not only does this business offer low overheads, but also a flexible business model designed for a work-life balance. This is the perfect business for someone with a passion for gardening and looking to expand their current business, or someone who is thinking of making the leap to becoming their own boss.

Key Features Include:

- A healthy outdoor lifestyle, a job that will keep you fit and healthy
- Flexibility to choose your own hours, anytime, full-time, part-time
- Low overheads and easy to operate business model with the opportunity to earn a 6-figure income
- Also included in the sale is some equipment. Further details upon enquiry
