35124 MOBILE HEALTH SERVICES BUSINESS – INDUSTRY LEADER

In the bustling city of Melbourne, a unique opportunity has emerged to own an industry leader.

This business is known for its mobile monitoring services and provides essential respirator fit testing, audiometry, and spirometry services directly at clients' locations. The business operates from a specially built van equipped with the latest test equipment, along with an audiometry trailer, making it a crucial partner for businesses in need of these specialised services.

The mobile nature of this business allows it to serve a wide range of clients efficiently, build strong relationships, and secure a steady stream of business. The technology at its disposal ensures top-notch service delivery, setting it apart from competitors. With a well-versed team of staff, the business has established itself as a reliable and essential provider in its field.

Existing relationships are strong, and bookings are already lined up, highlighting the business's ongoing demand and potential for future expansion. The business is experiencing growth, with exciting opportunities on the horizon and is the ideal acquisition for someone looking to step into a thriving and essential service industry with a well-established client base and the potential for significant growth. The online presence, through its website, further supports its credibility and reach.
