35156 PROFITABLE CLEANING COMPANY – CONSTRUCTION INDUSTRY

Step into a thriving and well-established business that specialises in the cleaning of new homes for construction companies.

Southeast Queensland has seen significant population growth in recent years, driven by interstate migration and an increasing demand for housing. As more people choose to relocate to this rapidly developing region, the need for new housing has surged, leading to a boom in construction projects. The demand for cleaning services will only rise, making this a solid investment for the future.

Built on a foundation of strong client relationships, exceptional service and a dedicated team, this business is the perfect opportunity for a new owner looking to hit the ground running. One of the standout features of this business is its flexibility. The owner has the freedom to operate from any location, as long as there's an internet connection, making it an attractive option for those seeking a remote work environment.

With all communication handled through email, text, phone and via a scheduling app, this home-based model has effectively minimised operating costs while maintaining strong profitability. Together with a reliable team of staff and excellent relationships with builders, running the business is straightforward and stress-free.

Although the business currently operates without an online presence, it has been built on the quality of work and word-of-mouth referrals, opening a significant avenue for new growth. This is a perfect fit for someone who values flexibility, enjoys managing a reliable team, and sees the potential in a business that is
