PROFITABLE CIVIL & STRUCTURAL ENGINEERING CONSULTANCY - SOLD

Unfortunately, you have missed this one.

Bonza presents an incredible opportunity to acquire a highly respected civil and structural engineering consultancy that has been a trusted name in the Gold Coast area for almost five decades!

This business specialises in providing high-quality engineering design, documentation, and certification services and has a long history of delivering innovative and economical solutions. With a loyal clientele, many of whom have been with the business for over 30 years, it's clear that this firm has built strong relationships with its industrial clients and earned a stellar reputation for excellence and reliability.

Operated from a home office, this business provides the flexibility of location without the burden of traditional office space, helping to keep overhead costs low. With a skilled team already in place and the owner looking to retire after years of dedication and success, this opportunity is ideal for anyone seeking a smooth transition into a profitable and thriving business that's ready for its next chapter.

One fantastic opportunity for the new owner? There's currently no website or social media presence! That's right—this thriving business has grown purely through word-of-mouth and reputation. Imagine the possibilities with a strong online presence and targeted marketing initiatives—this is a chance to elevate the business even further and attract an even larger client base!
